A similar suit was filed against Samuel Ballard and the Sea Coast Echo, a corporation, by Haas and another in the same amount against T. T. Reboul, by Frank Selph, who is also a Board member.

The summons were issued and served the parties August 8, 1958, ordering them to appear in the September term of Circuit Court. The suits were filed against Reboul as the result of charges made against Haas and Selph, members of the Hospital Board, before a Board of Supervisors meeting Monday, a week ago, and the one against Ballard and the Sea Coast Echo is based on the editorial aimed at Haas which appeared in last week's issue of the Echo.

Housing Money To Be Spent Locally

The Farmers Home Administration which loans money to farm people in this area recently expanded its farm housing loan program as an anti-recession measure. And Max H. Stone, local County Supervisor for the agency, says that farm people are showing a lot of interest in the new program. In fact, he estimated today that if present farm housing loan activity continues in the future as it has in the past two months, that more than $80,000.00 will be channeled into this area by the end of calendar year 1958.

Mr. Stone said that a farm housing borrower uses most of the money to buy material and supplies from local lumber yards and business places and the balance goes for hiring labor skilled labor to do some of the carpenter and other construction work.

"I will stay until the cows come home," said Norton Haas, president of the Hancock County Hospital Board of Trustees, Monday night at a meeting of the Board.

Mr. Haas, president of the Hancock County Hospital Board of Trustees, and Judge A. Selph, a member of the Board, were requested to resign by the Board of Supervisors at a meeting Monday night at the Courthouse.

Mr. Haas and Judge Selph were requested to resign by the Board of Supervisors at a meeting Monday night at the Courthouse.

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors last Monday, T. T. Reboul, who is also a member of the Hospital Board of Trustees, asked that the Board request Haas and Judge Selph to resign their positions on the Hospital Board. Early Wingo, Robert L. Gering, representing Haas and Selph, presented an opinion from the Attorney General, which revealed that the Board of Supervisors had no authority to move these men from the hospital board.

These charges were brought against Haas and Selph as the result of letters written by them to the Hospital Board. Early Wingo, Clement, former hospital administrator, before he resigned his position.

Reboul charged that these letters of recommendation reflected discredit on other members of the hospital board.

According to Mr. Haas and Judge Selph, these letters were written in an attempt to help Clement obtain another position prior to his resignation here; they said they were written in good faith as they believed, and still do that Clement was a good administrator.

Hubert Thigpen, a member of the Board of Trustees, told those present that he did not feel that it was fair to continue the persecution of Clement in view of the fact that he is no longer in this community and our hospital must continue to operate. He added that all of this unfavorable publicity was injuring Clement, who had a family to support, and would keep him from finding employment. In conclusion, Mr. Thigpen said "we must realize that some day all of what we have done to this man may come back on us."

Mrs. Jeannette Carmichael, editor of the "Light" said she had been informed that the Hancock, New York, Chief of Police had asked someone in Bay St. Louis for information concerning Clement as he had been dismissed from the hospital there. Mrs. Carmichael informed the group that she had phoned the Chief of Police in Hancock and he told her he had never called Bay St. Louis for information concerning Clement as he knew little about the man and had only come in contact with him at two meetings; however, he did say someone from Bay St. Louis had called him. Mrs. Carmichael argued the conversation should be authenticated. Mrs. Carmichael replied, "I am not in the habit of lying, maybe you are."

Mr. Wingo asked Mr. Reboul if he had not stated that he would resign before he would continue on the Hospital Board with "two such characters," and asked if he had changed his mind about resigning.

Mr. Reboul said that he did not refer to them as "characters," but as "men of that calibre." Mr. Wingo then asked if Mr. Reboul had made the statement that 90 per cent of the statements made by Haas and Selph in their letters of recommendation were not true. Mr. Reboul said he did not say 90 per cent but "the majority" of them.

The entire meeting centered around Clement and the many charges that have been brought against him, until Counsel for Mr. Haas and Judge Selph asked the group consider the original reason for which the meeting was called to ask these members of the Hospital Board to tender their resignations.

The Cafeteria staff includes Mrs. Elizabeth Becker, Mrs. Raymond Bourgeois, Mrs. Agathe Raymond, Mrs. Gerald Ladner and Mrs. Mary Martin.

The Cafeteria will be open during the school term from 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The school term begins August 29th and ends June 1st.

My training consists of attending Wiggins High School, Perkinson Junior College, serving 4 1/2 years as a Naval Aviator and combat veteran of World War II, receiving a BA and a Law Degree from the University of Mississippi, serving as a member of the Legislature from Stone County for nearly 5 years, serving as District Attorney of the Second Judicial District for 5 1/2 years, and living in close association with the people of South Mississippi and their problems for the 34 years of my life. My experience has trained me as a fighter. First, as a combat veteran of World War II, then for nearly 8 years as a member of the Mississippi Legislature through many legislative battles, and including the passage of the historic Pay-As-You-Go Rural Road Program, and finally, as District Attorney for 5 1/2 years in one of the most trying public offices in Mississippi. Throughout these experiences, I have dedicated myself to those principles of truth, justice and integrity which I have qualified myself through training and experience to serve you in the Congress.
